Scioto township voters approved a renewal of a special operating levy of three mills for five years by a vote of 134 to 76.

In Muhlenberg township a renewal of a special operating levy of three mills for three years was approved 84 to 35.

Madison township's special operating levy of two mills for five years passed 466 to 19.

The Perry township school bond issue for $5,200 to purchase land for vocational agriculture purposes failed to get the necessary 65 per cent vote needed for its passage. The vote was 86 for, 71 against.

The agricultural levy is expected to yield about $100,000 in the one year it runs. The money will be used to help finance buildings at the Pickaway county fairgrounds. Approximately $49,000 was expected from the one-mill levy in effect this year. The agricultural society plans a coliseum, livestock and other exhibit buildings at the fairgrounds.

The levy passed in most precincts. In Circleville the vote was 499 to 406. Voters in only two city precincts failed to give the levy a majority. In 2-B the vote was 36 for, 37 against and in 4-A it was 19 for and 25 against.

Labor Candidate Fails To Get Detroit Post; O'Dwyer Vote Is Record

By United Press
Labor's attempt to take the leadership of Detroit's city government was rebuffed and the Democratic party of New York City was returned to power today after 12 years in the nation's feature election contests.

Throughout the nation hundreds of elections were held. Two new representatives to congress were chosen and one governor was elected.

Several major and dozens of minor mayoralty elections were decided. National interest was focused on Detroit where Richard T. Frankenstein, 38-year-old vice president of the United Automobile Workers Union (CIO), went down to defeat before Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, Jr., who was re-elected to his fourth term.

The Detroit campaign was a bitter one and the election itself was undecided until almost 3 a. m. today when the union leader conceded defeat.

Frankenstein had led through the early part of the night's counting of the ballots, but at midnight Jeffries forged ahead and swept to victory by more than 50,000 votes.

At New York, the lean years under Mayor F. H. LaGuardia ended for the Democrats with the election of William O'Dwyer, former Kings county (Brooklyn) district attorney who smashed Mayor Morris, Independent, O'Dwyer, who also had the backing of the American Labor party, had a 685,175 vote plurality over Goldstein who ran second. It was the largest any mayor had received.

Democrats and Republicans alike, however, saw indications favoring their tickets in the 1946 New York state elections. O'Dwyer's victory was hailed as (Continued on Page Two)

COUNCIL PAY RAISE STUDIED

Auditor, Clerk Also To Get Higher Salaries Under Proposed Ordinance

An ordinance to raise the salaries of the city council, the city auditor and the clerk of council, to make up for a 10 percent cut taken several years back, received its first reading at council meeting Tuesday night.

Other business conducted at the brief meeting, which began at 7:30 and was over by 8:05 p. m., included the filing of a claim against the city for $350 damages by Lawrence Davis, the referring of the proposed improvement of Court street to the service committee for a report at the next meeting, the report of the finance committee listing $792.04 in parking meter collections for October and the report of city officials listing $461 in collections for October by the mayor's office. A report on the water company case that it was pending appeal was given by City Solicitor Joe Adkins.

The ordinance raising salaries if passed would increase the salary of the city auditor to $1500, the salaries of council members from $108 to $120 per year and the salary of the clerk of council from $27 to $30 per year. The increase in salary for the city auditor, however, could not take effect until January 1, 1946, when her term expires, according to a state law prohibiting salary increases during a term. Other salary increases would go into effect January, 1946, when new terms started, if passed before the end of the year. All members of council were present Tuesday night but the rules were not suspended and no action was taken on the ordinance. Action may be taken on the second or third readings.

Republicans Claim Officer Held Incommunicado In Psychopathic Ward

Officials State Captain In Question Is Ill; No Requests Received

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 — The Navy today denied Republican charges that a potential witness in the Pearl Harbor inquiry had been "broken in mind and body" and was being held incommunicado in a hospital psychopathic ward.

The charges were made in the house yesterday by Reps. Bertrand W. Gearhart, R., Calif., and Frank B. Keefe, R., Wis., members of the congressional Pearl Harbor investigating committee.

They said that a Navy officer who handled important messages during delicate diplomatic negotiations late in 1941 now was confined to the psychopathic ward of Bethesda, Md., naval hospital. They said committee members had been denied permission to interview him, and cited it as an example of what they called an Army and Navy plot "to break down" testimony of witnesses.

The Navy identified the officer as Capt. Alvin D. Kramer of Miami, Fla., a veteran of Pacific service. The Navy statement said Kramer was ill in the Bethesda hospital which he entered Sept. 28. The Navy refused to identify (Continued on Page Two)

Litten Loses By 1 Vote At Ashville But Recount Looms; Other Mayors

A write-in campaign for Harry Litten for mayor of Ashville enlivened the voting for township officials in the county. Mayors, clerks, treasurers, board of trustees and members of council were named in villages.

Mayor T. R. Acord was the only name on the ballot at Ashville but Litten almost defeated him. The final count at the board of election Tuesday night was 154 votes for Acord and 153 for Litten. In the west precinct Litten won 79 to 57, but Acord carried the east precinct, 97 to 74. According to reports from Ashville, Mr. Litten may be elected after a recount. A mistake in counting was reported at Ashville.

STALIN ABSENCE CREATES STIR IN RED CAPITAL

MOSCOW, Nov. 7 — Surprise and disappointment swept Moscow today as Generalissimo Stalin remained mysteriously absent from the formal ceremonies marking the 28th anniversary of the Red revolution.

It was the first time in many years that Moscow ushered in its state new year without Stalin. His failure to appear aroused widespread speculation in unofficial quarters.

Muscovites had expected confidently to see Stalin and to hear his review of the year's achievements. Instead, the review was read off by Foreign Commissar Molotov and the generalissimo's traditional order of the day to the Red Army was signed by Marshal Alexander Vasilievsky.

Two new city officials were elected by Circleville voters Tuesday. They are George Gerhardt, solicitor, and Everett P. Stocklen, treasurer, both Democrats.

They succeeded Joseph W. Adkins and Milton H. Kellstadt, respectively, who did not seek re-election. Gerhardt was unopposed while Mr. Stocklen defeated Gladys Fausnaugh Wiggins, Republican, 605 to 304. None of the other present city officials had opposition. Mayor Ben H. Gordon and his present council were re-elected.

Early Break In Ford Strike Seen; Capital Is 'Walking'

Ford Workers Vote On Decision To Stage Strike

BULLETIN
By United Press
Striking CIO United Auto Workers at Windsor, Ont., agreed today to permit police to remove a massive vehicle barricade from Ford of Canada plants.

An early break was expected today in the two-month Windsor, Ont., automotive dispute, but thousands were without transportation because of a walkout in Washington, D. C., where labor and industry leaders met to seek a formula for averting strikes.

Canadian Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell predicted last night that a solution would be found "within 24 hours" to a work stoppage which has crippled Ford Motor company operations in Windsor, across the border from Detroit.

After meeting with officials of the striking CIO United Auto Workers union, the dominion labor minister indicated a definite proposal for ending the strike had been framed, but refused to discuss its terms.

Traffic congestion in the nation's capital at an all-time high as a result of the transit strike, threatened to grow worse as the possibility arose that taxi drivers might join the walkout.

Thousands of government workers thumbed rides or walked to and from work after bus and street car operators went on strike early yesterday for a 30-cent hourly wage increase.

The Capital Transit company, which provides all service within the city and serves some Maryland suburbs, normally carries about 1,250,000 persons daily.

The Washington walkout had no appreciable effect on the national labor-management conference, however. Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach's limousine deposited him at the labor building, and the 36 union and industry delegates arrived on time.

In other major labor developments, Greyhound Bus transportation was snarled in the southwest and eastern portions of the U. S., representatives of 60,000 AFL lumberworkers rejected an offer of a 12½ cent hourly raise, and a strike vote was in progress among Ford Motor company workers throughout the nation.

Strikes, largely the result of demands for higher wages, kept 284,000 workers away from their jobs, according to a United Press survey.

The General Motors Corp.—largest of the automotive "big three"—resumed negotiations with CIO United Auto Workers officials today, presumably to present the company's formal reply to union demands for a 30 per cent pay boost.

RAF JET PLANE SETS NEW MARK

Speed Record Of 606 Miles An Hour Recorded In British Test

HERNE BAY, Eng., Nov. 7 — A Royal Air Force jet-propelled plane, piloted by Eric Greenwood, chief test pilot for the Gloster Aviation Company, set a new world's speed record of 606 miles an hour today, shortly after another pilot had raised the mark to 602 miles an hour.

Greenwood made the 606-mile average in his "Yellow Meteor" in four official runs over the Herne bay course, hitting a high of 612 miles an hour on one.

He broke the record within an hour after his friend Group Captain Hugh Wilson had streaked another jet-propelled ship "Britannia" over the same course for a record of 602 miles an hour.

Both pilots flew the course in conformity with rules of the federation aeronautique governing official speed tests for aircraft.

It had not yet been decided whether Greenwood's time would be submitted to the federation for certification.

Further speed trials were expected. The twin test flights broke the accepted record of German pilot Fritz Wendel who flew a Messerschmitt at 481.4 miles an hour in 1939.

Greenwood and his colleague decided to make the test flights this morning although they were advised weather conditions were not perfect.

For the last two weeks they had (Continued on Page Two)

MAIN WORK IN BACKGROUND AS SCRAP GOES ON

CIO Alone In Fight To Put Wage-Price Issue On Meeting Agenda

LEWIS MAY HAVE PLANS

UMW Chief Clashes With Murray; Does Not Like Green, AFL Head

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 — A bitter civil war was raging today among labor delegates to the national labor-management conference.

The struggle temporarily overshadowed the main work of the conference—development of means to lessen industrial strife—and revealed a lop-sided split among labor delegates.

Standing alone in the labor camp was the CIO, which is staking its prestige at the conference on its fight to put the wage-price issue on the agenda. CIO President Philip Murray may formally ask the conference executive committee today to take it up.

The cleavage became apparent yesterday when, with AFL support, the important conference executive committee was enlarged to give seats to President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers and T. C. Cashen, representing the railway brotherhoods. The move climaxed a bitter four hour battle in which management representatives were silent but interested spectators.

An angry exchange of words between Lewis, Murray, AFL President William Green and Cashen showed clearly that the CIO was without support in its strategy to gain a hearing on the issue of wages and prices.

Lewis, formerly in the AFL and reported soon to return, attacked Murray bitterly. Cashen, who also heads a railway union affiliated with the AFL, deplored the CIO attempt to question his membership on the executive committee. Green led the AFL fight to win seats for Lewis and Cashen.

Their remarks appeared aimed squarely at putting a crimp in CIO prestige and perhaps at crippling it permanently. The AFL has openly claimed that CIO unions are not strong enough financially to withstand any lengthy temporary mass unemployment brought about by strikes.

Lewis has never concealed his dislike for the leaders of the CIO, which he founded and later left. He is said to have strong personal appeal among many union workers in the mass industries which he helped to organize in 1935-38.

But Lewis has been equally contemptuous of Green's leadership of the AFL. Some observers wonder if he is seeking to use the conference as the stage on which to establish himself as leader of all American labor.

The AFL for its part has never surrendered its objective of bringing Lewis and the CIO back under its standards—in "the house of labor" Green describes it.

Meanwhile, it was learned that President Truman was remaining in close contact with the conference which he called to find ways of bettering management-labor relations. The President, it was said, confers frequently by telephone with Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach to get progress reports.

Today's sessions will be devoted to the organization of several committees appointed late yesterday. The CIO insists that the conference must deal with the subject of wages and prices if it is to find a solution for current industrial unrest and establish long-range machinery for minimizing strife in labor-management relations.

"They haven't heard the last of wages and prices," a Murray colleague said. He hinted that the subject would be raised at every opportunity.

The CIO has staked its whole prestige in the conference on this issue. Statements by Murray, who also heads the United Steelworkers, and President R. J. Thomas of the United Automobile Workers drummed on this single theme.

The charges were made in the house yesterday by Reps. Bertrand W. Gearhart, R. Calif., and Frank B. Keefe, R. Wis., members of the congressional Pearl Harbor investigating committee.

They said that a Navy officer who handled important messages during delicate diplomatic negotiations late in 1941 now was confined to the psychopathic ward of Bethesda, Md., naval hospital. They said committee members had been denied permission to interview him, and cited it as an example of what they called an Army and Navy plot "to break down" testimony of witnesses.

The Navy identified the officer as Capt. Alvin D. Kramer of Miami, Fla., a veteran of Pacific service. The Navy statement said Kramer was ill in the Bethesda hospital which he entered Sept. 28. The Navy refused to identify (Continued on Page Two)

Transportation — A possibility arose that taxi drivers might join Washington, D. C., bus and street car operators, who walked off their jobs yesterday for a 30-cent hourly wage increase.

Automotive — General Motors and CIO United Auto Workers officials resumed wage negotiations, an early break was anticipated in the two-month Windsor, Ont., work stoppage, and a strike vote was in progress among Ford workers throughout the nation over demands for a 30-percent pay boost.

Lumber — Representatives of 60,000 AFL lumberworkers rejected an offer of a 12½ cent hourly raise and decided to continue a seven-week strike to support demands for a $1.10 industrywide hourly minimum.

Ford Workers Vote On Decision To Stage Strike

BULLETIN
By United Press
Striking CIO United Auto Workers at Windsor, Ont., agreed today to permit police to remove a massive vehicle barricade from Ford of Canada plants.

An early break was expected today in the two-month Windsor, Ont., automotive dispute, but thousands were without transportation because of a walkout in Washington, D. C., where labor and industry leaders met to seek a formula for averting strikes.

Canadian Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell predicted last night that a solution would be found "within 24 hours" to a work stoppage which has crippled Ford Motor company operations in Windsor, across the border from Detroit.

After meeting with officials of the striking CIO United Auto Workers union, the dominion labor minister indicated a definite proposal for ending the strike had been framed, but refused to discuss its terms.

Traffic congestion in the nation's capital at an all-time high as a result of the transit strike, threatened to grow worse as the possibility arose that taxi drivers might join the walkout.

Thousands of government workers thumbed rides or walked to and from work after bus and street car operators went on strike early

RAF JET PLANE SETS NEW MARK

Speed Record Of 606 Miles An Hour Recorded In British Test

HERNE BAY, Eng., Nov. 7.—A Royal Air Force jet-propelled plane, piloted by Eric Greenwood, chief test pilot for the Gloster Aviation Company, set a new world's speed record of 606 miles an hour today, shortly after another pilot had raised the mark to 602 miles an hour.

Greenwood made the 606-mile average in his "Yellow Meteor" in four official runs over the Herne bay course, hitting a high of 612 miles an hour on one.

He broke the record within an hour after his friend Group Captain Hugh Wilson had streaked another jet-propelled ship "Britannia" over the same course for a record of 602 miles an hour.

Both pilots flew the course in conformity with rules of the federation aeronautique governing official speed tests for aircraft.

It had not yet been decided whether Greenwood's time would be submitted to the federation for certification.

Further speed trials were expected.

The twin test flights broke the accepted record of German pilot Fritz Wendel who flew a Messerschmitt at 481.4 miles an hour in 1939.

Greenwood and his colleague decided to make the test flights this morning although they were advised weather conditions were not perfect.

For the last two weeks they had (Continued on Page Two)

The wealthy family of the golden-haired child, last seen as he played in the front yard of his home last Thursday, clung to only a faint hope that their son was the victim of kidnappers.

CHURCHILL NOT FOR 'PRESSURE'

Former Prime Minister Says He Hopes Britain Will Not Force Atom Sharing

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Winston Churchill expressed hope today in the house of commons that Britain would not bring pressure on the United States to reveal all the atom bomb secrets to Russia.

Churchill said that if the United States was going to make this knowledge available it would require a visit by Soviet specialists, engineers and scientists to the American atom arsenals.

"I trust we are not going to put pressure on the United States to adopt such a course," Churchill said, "I hope that we shall adhere to the policy declared by President Truman to keep the knowledge and processes as a sacred trust—as a deterrent to aggressive war."

Churchill said that what the United States did not want to disclose was the practical production methods developed for producing atom bombs at enormous expense and on a gigantic scale.

Churchill said that such a declaration as Mr. Truman's navy day speech would have prevented both the first and second world wars.

RE - ENLISTMENTS GIVEN BOOST BY NEW REGULATION

CLEVELAND, Nov. 7.—Re-enlistment terms for veterans have been further improved with the announcement that men discharged since May 11 will regain the highest non-commissioned rank they held in the service if they sign up before Nov. 21.

The Cleveland District including 70 Ohio counties will try to obtain 2,715 recruits during November, according to Lieut. Col. Frank L. Bock, commanding officer.

Further inducements were recently announced by Army officials for men who wish to enlist for shorter periods. Regular Army enlistment periods now are 18 months, two or three years.

Veterans with six-months continuous service may enlist for one year.

The current enlistment goal for the Fifth Service Command was set at 70,000. The Cleveland district was leading the drive, according to the latest figures.

MAIN WORK IN BACKGROUND AS SCRAP GOES ON

CIO Alone In Fight To Put Wage-Price Issue On Meeting Agenda

LEWIS MAY HAVE PLANS

UMW Chief Clashes With Murray; Does Not Like Green, AFL Head

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—A bitter civil war was raging today among labor delegates to the national labor-management conference.

The struggle temporarily overshadowed the main work of the conference—development of means to lessen industrial strife—and revealed a deep-sided split among labor delegates.

Standing alone in the labor camp was the CIO, which is staking its prestige at the conference on its fight to put the wage-price issue on the agenda. CIO President Philip Murray may formally ask the conference executive committee today to take it up.

The cleavage became apparent yesterday when, with AFL support, the important conference executive committee was enlarged to give seats to President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers and T. C. Cashen, representing the railway brotherhoods. The move climaxed a bitter four hour battle in which management representatives were silent but interested spectators.

An angry exchange of words between Lewis, Murray, AFL President William Green and Cashen showed clearly that the CIO was without support in its strategy to gain a hearing on the issue of wages and prices.

Lewis, formerly in the AFL and reported soon to return, attacked Murray bitterly. Cashen, who also heads a railway union affiliated with the AFL, deplored the CIO attempt to question his membership on the executive committee. Green led the AFL fight to win seats for Lewis and Cashen.

Their remarks appeared aimed squarely at putting a crimp in CIO prestige and perhaps at crippling it permanently. The AFL has openly claimed that CIO unions are not strong enough financially to withstand any lengthy temporary mass unemployment brought about by strikes.

Lewis has never concealed his dislike for the leaders of the CIO, which he founded and later left. He is said to have strong personal appeal among many union workers in the mass industries which he helped to organize in 1935-38.

But Lewis has been equally contemptuous of Green's leadership of the AFL. Some observers wonder if he is seeking to use the conference as the stage on which to establish himself as leader of all American labor.

The AFL for its part has never surrendered its objective of bringing Lewis and the CIO back under its standards—in "the house of labor" Green describes it.

Meanwhile, it was learned that President Truman was remaining in close contact with the conference which he called to find ways of bettering management-labor relations. The President, it was said, confers frequently by telephone with Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach to get progress reports.

Today's sessions will be devoted to the organization of several committees appointed late yesterday. The CIO insists that the conference must deal with the subject of wages and prices if it is to find a solution for current industrial unrest and establish long-range machinery for minimizing strife in labor-management relations.

"They haven't heard the last of wages and prices," a Murray colleague said. He hinted that the subject would be raised at every opportunity.

The CIO has staked its whole prestige in the conference on this issue. Statements by Murray, who also heads the United Steelworkers, and President R. J. Thomas of the United Automobile Workers drummed on this single theme.

United Transport Service Workers (CIO), added his support. He told the conference late yesterday that "unemployment and low wages breed slums; unless we approach this problem honestly and fairly we are breeding the stamping grounds for the next war."

Management delegates carefully refrained from participating in or making any comment on the civil war around the labor table.

Lewis, who had been omitted from the preliminary planning committee of the conference, was assured a voice in its course when the executive committee was enlarged to include him and Cashen. Other labor members are Murray, Thomas and general counsel Lee Pressman, CIO; Green, Matthew Woll and George M. Harrison, AFL.

The industry members are H. W. Prentiss, Eric Johnston, Ira Mosher, H. W. Steinkraus, David Sarnoff, William M. Rand, M. W. Clement and John Holmes.

This committee will coordinate the work of the conference; integrate reports of all other committees; consider and report on any subject of the agenda not otherwise assigned and "deal with such other matters of a general nature as may come before it."

This last includes selection of a committee to hear viewpoints of farmer, consumer, industrial and business groups and independent unions which do not have direct representation in the conference.

Kramer's ailment. But it denied he was in the psychopathic ward or was suffering from a mental disturbance. It said the question of whether committee members can see Kramer was up to the hospital and whether the patient was in condition to receive visitors.

As to any evidence Kramer might give, the Navy said:

"To date no requests have been received by the Navy department from the committee to question Capt. Kramer. When the committee begins its hearings, Capt. Kramer will be available on request if his health permits him to appear."

Pearl Harbor also was the subject of angry debate in the senate. It centered on Republican charges of missing government files and their demand that committee members have the right to look into files of the late President Roosevelt.

Sens. Homer Ferguson, R. Mich., and Owen Brewster, R. Me., said committee counsel William D. Mitchell had confirmed that the records of four naval radio monitoring stations were missing. They renewed their demand that individual committee members have authority to check government files to see whether other important documents are missing.

Sen. C. Wayland Brooks, R. Ill., urged Brewster and Ferguson to resign "if they won't give you the same opportunity to look into the safes or vaults as an assistant attorney." Ferguson told reporters he wouldn't think of resigning "until we have done more work than we have accomplished so far."

74 JEWS DIE IN NEW RIOTS IN MIDDLE EAST

CAIRO, Nov. 7.—British headquarters announced today that 74 Jews were killed and a total of about 300 casualties occurred at Tripoli in violent anti-Jewish rioting blamed on irresponsible Arab mobs.

The British information office said rioting broke out at Tripoli Sunday night and apparently had not been brought under control as late as last night.

The violence at Tripoli, big Mediterranean port in western Libya, followed by two days a flare-up in Egypt which resulted in scores of deaths and injuries.

The grave outbreak of rioting, violence and arson was attributed by the British information office to Arab bands renewing the anti-Jewish attacks which for weeks have caused a high state of tension in the Middle East.

"the beginning of the end of Governor Dewey as a political figure in New York state." But Republicans took comfort from their victories in mayoralty races in Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse. In Buffalo the Republicans elected a mayor for the first time in 12 years.

In other major mayoralty contests:

At Cleveland, Democratic Mayor Thomas Burke was re-elected, defeating Ray C. Miller, Republican candidate, by an overwhelming margin.

At Pittsburgh, Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence defeated Republican Robert N. Waddell, former Carnegie Tech football coach, for mayor. The Democrats preserved their unbroken rule of the city for the past 12 years.

At Boston, U. S. Rep. James M. Curley, D. Mass., was elected to a fourth term as mayor. The 70-year-old congressman who first was elected mayor in 1913, won again in 1921 and 1929, polled almost as many votes as his five opponents combined.

Virginia had a new Democratic governor when William Tuck defeated Republican Floyd S. Landreth by an overwhelming margin.

Two representatives to congress were elected, Roy C. Cline, Republican, of Carmi, Ill., won the post in the Illinois 24th congressional district in an uncontested contest. Some votes were cast for a Democratic write-in candidate who previously had announced he had withdrawn from the race.

The Republicans also retained their seat from New Jersey's fourth congressional district. Frank A. Mathews, Jr., Republican, defeated former common pleas judge Frank S. Katzenbach, Democrat, and former district court judge George Pelletieri who ran a poor third as an independent Democrat. The post was vacated by the resignation of D. Lane Powers.

U. S. MARINES MAY BE CALLED OUT OF CHINA

CHUNGKING, Nov. 7.—A hurried meeting of top American military commanders in Peiping today heightened speculation that the United States may be about to withdraw 150,000 Marines from North China to avoid involvement in the Chinese civil war.

Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, commander of American forces in China, flew from Tokyo to Peiping yesterday to confer with air force and Marine commanders there, presumably on the immediate disposition of the Marine detachments in the north.

Wedemeyer's hurried trip to Peiping followed a series of conferences with Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz in Pearl Harbor and Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Japan.

It came in the midst of a virulent Chinese Communist press campaign demanding the immediate withdrawal of the Marines and charging them with intervening in the civil war on behalf of the Chungking government. The latter charge has been denied officially in Washington and Chungking.

PUPILS PROTEST DEFEAT OF LEVY AT ZANESVILLE

ZANESVILLE, O., Nov. 7.—Students of Zanesville's Lash High School, 400 strong demonstrated in downtown streets here this morning, protesting apparent defeat of a $2,775,000 school improvement bond issue in yesterday's election.

Although the students were still disorganized, they planned a meeting for 1 p. m. at the county courthouse, with the high school band expected to be on hand.

About 40 students commandeered a truck in the business district and drove to John Hancock junior high school, where they attempted to "recruit" more students, but school officials dispersed them.

Classes were still in session at Lash High, but teachers were having difficulty controlling students, who roamed up and down aisles heatedly discussing the defeat of the bond issue.

The complete but unofficial returns showed 7,277 for the issue, and 4,231 against it, just short of the necessary 65 per cent.

EARLY BREAK IN STRIKE IS SEEN

Motors and Chrysler plants, was a mere formality to comply with the Smith-Connally act, inasmuch as Ford employees already had approved strike action in balloting under the UAW constitution.

Even as UAW and General Motors officials renewed their meetings, the Automobile Manufacturers' Association charged in Washington that a commerce department report on the auto industry's ability to increase wages was "being used as official government authorization for unreasonable wage demands."

The report, released last week, purported to show that the automotive industry could increase wages 15 per cent in 1946 and another 10 per cent in 1947 without price increases.

George Roney, general manager of the Auto Makers Association, charged in a letter to Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace that the department's conclusions were based "wholly upon major assumptions which at best are debatable as to validity and at worst are wholly unfounded upon fact."

Despite encouraging developments, pickets three and four deep continued yesterday to ring the giant Ford plant at Windsor. The 10,000 Ford strikers were joined by an additional 10,000 CIO sympathizers, virtually paralyzing 30 industrial plants in the area.

The sympathy strike was called Monday after 250 special provincial and Royal Canadian mounted police arrived in Windsor on orders of Ontario police officials.

The Washington transit walkout brought ominous warnings from congressmen, many of whom were hard-pressed for transportation to their offices.

Sen. Alexander Wiley, R., Wis., termed the strike "the bitter fruit of the administration's decade-long codding and false education of labor."

Rep. Leslie C. Arends, R., Ill., author of legislation to strip bargaining rights from unions which violate no-strike contract pledges, told reporters that "unscrupulous labor leaders are sitting in the seat of the mighty."

A government mediation proposal that striking bus and street car operators return to work and submit their demands to arbitration was booted last night at a mass meeting of strikers. Union officials had presented the proposal, with a recommendation that it be accepted.

ARMY IS ASKED TO GIVE REASONS FOR 'BLUNDERS'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Army representatives will be called before a senate subcommittee to answer charges of Army blunders in handling surplus property, it was disclosed today.

A subcommittee of the senate war investigating committee decided to get the army side of the picture after hearing testimony that a series of inaccurate Army reports wrecked early efforts to sell Army surplus property to the public.

William S. Bradley, resigned head of the old office of surplus property, told the committee he had planned selling programs for 60 products, but 40 of these were ineffective or abandoned because the Army information upon which they were based was inaccurate.

PILE BUILDING IS SOLD; AUTO AGENCY PLANNED

The Pile building on West Main street has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Huffer for a consideration of approximately $10,000 to $10,500, court house records show.

The building was sold by the former joint owners, Mr. and Mrs. Milton P. Manson, Circleville route 4, and Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Pile, 122 Edison avenue, through a local real estate agent.

The display room and garage in the lower part of the building will house a Buick agency which will be operated by D. Adrian Yates.

the city for injuries suffered by his wife when she stepped into a hole on East Logan street. The claim asserts she suffered a broken left leg.

Councilman George Crites reported on the meeting with Grover Snyder, divisional engineer of the state highway department, which took place the preceding Tuesday. Mr. Crites announced that Mr. Snyder had stated that the total cost of the proposed improvement of Court street from the northern corporation limit to Pleasant street would be $18,000 and of this the city would have to pay $6,000.

The matter was referred to the service committee for a definite report at the next meeting. City Solicitor Joe Adkins announced that a bonus from the state highway department of $2200 had been received by the city and that another bonus of $2,200, bringing the total to $4,400, was expected before July 1, 1946. Work on the improvement would begin next Spring, Mr. Adkins stated.

Mr. Adkins reported that the water company case was pending appeal by the water company but that the date of the hearing before the court of appeals had not yet been set. He said, however, that it would probably be sometime after Christmas.

Unofficial totals from all precincts in the election of three members to the county board of education are as follows: Howard Huston 1343, Homer S. Reber 1364, J. F. Willis 1442.

The three candidates were the only ones on the ballot and had no opposition except for scattered write-in candidates who received a minor number of votes.

Carl C. Leist with 698 votes and Lillian W. Moore with 683 votes were elected unopposed to the Circleville board of education by city and Circleville township voters.

Three members were elected to district boards of education, districts roughly coinciding with townships, by voters in rural districts. Two trustees were elected in each township and some named justices of peace and constables. Villagers selected mayors and other officials. Firemen were called at 3 p. m. when smoke from the furnace drove election workers and voters out on the street.

Unofficial totals from all precincts in the election of three members to the county board of education are as follows: Howard Huston 1343, Homer S. Reber 1364, J. F. Willis 1442.

The three candidates were the only ones on the ballot and had no opposition except for scattered write-in candidates who received a minor number of votes.

Carl C. Leist with 698 votes and Lillian W. Moore with 683 votes were elected unopposed to the Circleville board of education by city and Circleville township voters.

COUNCIL PAY RAISE STUDIED

the city for injuries suffered by his wife when she stepped into a hole on East Logan street. The claim asserts she suffered a broken left leg.

Councilman George Crites reported on the meeting with Grover Snyder, divisional engineer of the state highway department, which took place the preceding Tuesday. Mr. Crites announced that Mr. Snyder had stated that the total cost of the proposed improvement of Court street from the northern corporation limit to Pleasant street would be $18,000 and of this the city would have to pay $6,000.

The matter was referred to the service committee for a definite report at the next meeting. City Solicitor Joe Adkins announced that a bonus from the state highway department of $2200 had been received by the city and that another bonus of $2,200, bringing the total to $4,400, was expected before July 1, 1946. Work on the improvement would begin next Spring, Mr. Adkins stated.

Mr. Adkins reported that the water company case was pending appeal by the water company but that the date of the hearing before the court of appeals had not yet been set. He said, however, that it would probably be sometime after Christmas.

There were no "hot" races in the city election Tuesday but workers at the 2-B polling place in the former Glitt grocery at Franklin and Mingo streets, thought for a few minutes they were in for a "hot" time. Firemen were called at 3 p. m. when smoke from the furnace drove election workers and voters out on the street.

United Transport Service Workers (CIO), added his support. He told the conference late yesterday that "unemployment and low wages breed slums; unless we approach this problem honestly and fairly we are breeding the stamping grounds for the next war."

Management delegates carefully refrained from participating in or making any comment on the civil war around the labor table.

Lewis, who had been omitted from the preliminary planning committee of the conference, was assured a voice in its course when the executive committee was enlarged to include him and Cushman. Other labor members are Murray, Thomas and general counsel Lee Pressman, CIO; Green, Matthew Well and George M. Harrison, AFL.

The industry members are H. W. Prentiss, Eric Johnston, Ira Mosher, H. W. Steinkraus, David Sarnoff, William M. Rand, M. W. Clement and John Holmes.

This committee will coordinate the work of the conference; integrate reports of all other committees; consider and report on any subject of the agenda not otherwise assigned and deal with such other matters of a general nature as may come before it.

This last includes selection of a committee to hear viewpoints of farmer, consumer, industrial and business groups and independent unions which do not have direct representation in the conference.

Kramer's ailment. But it denied he was in the psychopathic ward or was suffering from a mental disturbance. It said the question of whether committee members can see Kramer was up to the hospital and whether the patient was in condition to receive visitors.

As to any evidence Kramer might give, the Navy said: "To date no requests have been received by the Navy department from the committee to question Capt. Kramer. When the committee begins its hearings, Capt. Kramer will be available on request if his health permits him to appear."

Pearl Harbor also was the subject of angry debate in the senate. It centered on Republican charges of missing government files and their demand that committee members have the right to look into files of the late President Roosevelt.

Sens. Homer Ferguson, R., Mich., and Owen Brewster, R., Me., said committee counsel William D. Mitchell had confirmed that the records of four naval radio monitoring stations were missing. They renewed their demand that individual committee members have authority to check government files to see whether other important documents are missing.

Sen. C. Wayland Brooks, R., Ill., urged Brewster and Ferguson to resign "if they won't give you the same opportunity to look into these safes or vaults as an assistant attorney." Ferguson told reporters he wouldn't think of resigning "until we have done more work than we have accomplished so far."

74 JEWS DIE IN NEW RIOTS IN MIDDLE EAST

CAIRO, Nov. 7.—British headquarters announced today that 74 Jews were killed and a total of about 300 casualties in a riot at Tripoli in violent anti-Jewish riots blamed on irresponsible Arab mobs.

The British information office said rioting broke out at Tripoli Sunday night and apparently had not been brought under control as late as last night.

The violence at Tripoli, big Mediterranean port in western Libya, followed by two days a flareup in Egypt which resulted in scores of deaths and injuries.

The grave outbreak of rioting, violence and arson was attributed by the British information office to Arab bands renewing the anti-Jewish attacks which for weeks have caused a high state of tension in the Middle East.

"the beginning of the end of Governor Dewey as a political figure in New York state." But Republicans took comfort from their victories in mayoralty races in Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse. In Buffalo the Republicans elected a mayor for the first time in 12 years.

In other major mayoralty contests: At Cleveland, Democratic Mayor Thomas Burke was re-elected, defeating Ray C. Miller, Republican candidate, by an overwhelming margin.

At Pittsburgh, Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence defeated Republican Robert N. Waddell, former Carnegie Tech football coach, for mayor. The Democrats preserved their unbroken rule of the city for the past 12 years.

At Boston, U. S. Rep. James M. Curley, D., Mass., was elected to a fourth term as mayor. The 70-year-old congressman who first was elected mayor in 1913, won again in 1921 and 1929, polled almost as many votes as his five opponents combined.

Virginia had a new Democratic governor when William Tuck defeated Republican Floyd S. Landreth by an overwhelming margin.

Two representatives to congress were elected. Roy Clippinger, Republican of Carmi, Ill., won the post in the Illinois 24th congressional district in an uncontested contest. Some votes were cast for a Democratic write-in candidate who previously had announced he had withdrawn from the race.

The Republicans also retained their seat from New Jersey's fourth congressional district. Frank A. Mathews, Jr., Republican, defeated former common pleas judge Frank S. Katzenback, Democrat, and former district court judge George Pelletier who ran a poor third as an independent Democrat. The post was vacated by the resignation of D. Lane Powers.

U. S. MARINES MAY BE CALLED OUT OF CHINA

CHUNGKING, Nov. 7.—A hurried meeting of top American military commanders in Peiping today heightened speculation that the United States may be about to withdraw its 50,000 Marines from North China to avoid involvement in the Chinese civil war.

Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, commander of American forces in China, flew from Tokyo to Peiping yesterday to confer with air force and Marine commanders there, presumably on the immediate disposition of the Marine detachments in the north.

Wedemeyer's hurried trip to Peiping followed a series of conferences with Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz in Pearl Harbor and Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Japan.

It came in the midst of a virtual Chinese Communist press campaign demanding the immediate withdrawal of the Marines and charging them with intervening in the civil war on behalf of the Chungking government. The latter charge has been denied officially in Washington and Chungking.

PUPILS PROTEST DEFEAT OF LEVY AT ZANESVILLE

ZANESVILLE, O., Nov. 7.—Students of Zanesville's Lash High School, 400 strong demonstrated in downtown streets here this morning, protesting apparent defeat of a $2,775,000 school improvement bond issue in yesterday's election.

Although the students were still disorganized, they planned a meeting for 1 p. m. at the county courthouse, with the high school band expected to be on hand.

About 40 students commandeered a truck in the business district and drove to John Hancock junior high school, where they attempted to "recruit" more students, but school officials dispersed them.

Classes were still in session at Lash High, but teachers were having difficulty controlling students, who roamed up and down aisles heatedly discussing the defeat of the bond issue.

The complete but unofficial returns showed 7,277 for the issue, and 4,231 against it, just short of the necessary 65 per cent.

EARLY BREAK IN STRIKE IS SEEN

Motors and Chrysler plants, was a mere formality to comply with the Smith-Connally act, inasmuch as Ford employees already had approved strike action in balloting under the UAW constitution.

Even as UAW and General Motors officials renewed their meetings, the Automobile Manufacturers' Association charged in Washington that a commerce department report on the auto industry's ability to increase wages was "being used as official government authorization for unreasonable wage demands."

The report, released last week, purported to show that the automotive industry could increase wages 15 per cent in 1946 and another 10 per cent in 1947 without price increases.

George Roney, general manager of the Auto Makers Association, charged in a letter to Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace that the department's conclusions were based "wholly upon major assumptions which at best are debatable as to validity and at worst are wholly unfounded upon fact."

Despite encouraging developments, pickets three and four deep continued yesterday to ring the giant Ford plant at Windsor. The 10,000 Ford strikers were joined by an additional 10,000 CIO sympathizers, virtually paralyzing 30 industrial plants in the area.

The sympathy strike was called Monday after 250 special provincial and Royal Canadian mounted police arrived in Windsor on orders of Ontario police officials.

The Washington transit walkout brought ominous warnings from congressmen, many of whom were hard-pressed for transportation to their offices.

Sen. Alexander Wiley, R., Wis., termed the strike "the bitter fruit of the administration's decade-long coddling and false education of labor."

Rep. Leslie C. Arends, R., Ill., author of legislation to strip bargaining rights from unions which violate no-strike contract pledges, told reporters that "unscrupulous labor leaders are sitting in the seat of the mighty."

A government mediation proposal that striking bus and street car operators return to work and submit their demands to arbitration was booted last night at a mass meeting of strikers. Union officials had presented the proposal, with a recommendation that it be accepted.

ARMY IS ASKED TO GIVE REASONS FOR 'BLUNDERS'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Army representatives will be called before a senate subcommittee to answer charges of Army blunders in handling surplus property, it was disclosed today.

A subcommittee of the senate war investigating committee decided to get the army side of the picture after hearing testimony that a series of inaccurate Army reports wrecked early efforts to sell Army surplus property to the public.

William S. Bradley, resigned head of the old office of surplus property, told the committee he had planned selling programs for 60 products, but 40 of these were ineffective or abandoned because the Army information upon which they were based was inaccurate.

PILE BUILDING IS SOLD; AUTO AGENCY PLANNED

The building was sold by the former joint owners, Mr. and Mrs. Milton P. Manson, Circleville route 4, and Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Pile, 122 Edison avenue, through a local real estate agent.

The display room and garage in the lower part of the building will be operated by D. Adrian Yates.

Ashville's village officials chosen in Tuesday's election for the coming two years will be as follows: Mayor T. R. Acord; treasurer, Ben B. Morrison; clerk, Mrs. Nolo Gulick; councilmen A. E. Petty, Clyde Hoover, George Kuhlwein, Wayne Pontius, Don Nance and Francis Campbell; waterworks board, William S. Plum, E. F. Schlegel and E. W. Seeds; board of education, D. P. Courtright, Roger Hedges, and Harry Grove. In the closest village contest in years, Mayor Acord was re-elected by a plurality of one vote 154-153 over write-in candidate Harry A. Litten. However, an apparent error of five votes in the west precinct may result in a recount and the election of Mr. Litten.

Cpl. Bernard Walden arrived home Tuesday for a ten-day furlough. With the new point system for former prisoners of war, Bernard should be eligible for his honorable discharge within the near future.

Eighth grade pupils earning the highest scores in a recent standard test in grammar, history and geography are as follows: highest total scores, Carolyn Courtright 152, Marilyn Bowers 147, Joanne Hinkle 145, Charles Eversole and Phyllis Pettibone 140; grammar, Marilyn Bowers and Caroline Courtright 60, Joanne Hinkle 58, and Phyllis Pettibone 55; history, Carolyn Courtright and Joanne Hinkle 45, Marilyn Bowers and Louise Swingle 43; geography, Carolyn Courtright and Robert Shauck 47, Charles Eversole 46, Marilyn Bowers and Phyllis Pettibone 44.

Robert "Buddy" Parker was removed to University Hospital after doctors experienced difficulty in setting his broken wrist. A bone specialist was called in to practice his skill and the arm is now making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

The two-mill special operating levy for the Ashville village school district carried the township by a comfortable margin and will enable the local school to continue to operate at its present efficiency.

Friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vause Tuesday evening when the newly-married couple were given an old-fashioned belling.

HIGHER PRICES PAID FARMERS FOR SOME ITEMS

COLUMBUS, Nov. 7 — Rising prices received by Ohio farmers for most commodities sold from mid-September to mid-October, were shown in figures released today by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service here.

A few items, notably corn, potatoes, beef, cattle and wool, registered declines for the period ending October 15.

The higher levels on small grain prices listed gains of nine cents on wheat, four cents on oats, eight cents on barley, and one cent on rye over prices prevailing September 15. Eggs sold at 44.7 cents per dozen which was the highest October level since 1920. Prices on hogs rose some in keeping with the raising of the ceiling price. Wholesale milk prices advanced and supplies at fluid markets declined seasonally, according to the report.

The Ohio crop price rise picture held pace with the general upturn in agriculture price levels over the 1944 levels throughout the United States. According to the national crop-price index, the increase during the 30 day period ending October 15, accounted for the recovery of the 11 point drop in the index during the preceding month. The index, at 196 for October, was nine points higher than a year ago.

Commodity price gains were reported for truck crops, grains and cotton throughout the United States.

BONDS IN EGG CASE

TWIN FALLS, Ida.—A total of $3,000 in government bonds was the "nest-egg" the clerk in a local market found recently when she opened a case of eggs delivered by a Twin Falls rancher. The owner, Theo M. Gehle, was not aware of the loss until he was notified by the issuing bank, to which the bonds were returned by the clerk.

PROPERTY TAX UP

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—A million dollar increase in property taxes was recorded in Wyoming this year. Large gains in county and school taxes brought about the increase. The state mill levy for property tax purposes was maintained at two mills this year, same as in 1944.

Sgt. Goeller has been awarded the European Theater ribbon with five battle stars for his service in the European operations of the Air Forces.

Brigadier General Arthur E. Eastbrook, commanding general of the SAAB, declared:

WINTER PROSPECTS

WINTER may be fun for some people, but in Europe its approach is awaited with dread. It will be particularly hard on the children, says Howard E. Kershner, director of foreign work for the Save the Children Federation.

In France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Norway 10,000,000 children will be unable to attend school this winter. There is a critical coal shortage, and lack of warm clothing, shoes and bedding. Two-thirds of the children in the countries visited by Mr. Kershner were wearing paper shoes and grass sandals. Even wooden shoes were scarce.

Finland is in desperate straits, and in Finnmark, Norway's northern province, 90 per cent of the houses have been abandoned. The only shelters for the long Arctic nights are overcrowded, unheated temporary barracks.

Europe will find it hard at best this winter, but American generosity could head off the worst.

NEW WORLD OR OLD?

THE world's oldest civilization may not be in Babylonia, Egypt or India, but in South America. So thinks Arthur Posnansky, a Bolivian archaeologist, who has devoted his life to studying the ruins of Tihuanacu, on the Bolivian shores of Lake Titicaca. He has just published a large volume on these ancient buildings, of which only some pillars, statues and gateways remain.

South America could never have been populated, in Posnansky's opinion, by Asiatic migration over Bering strait. He thinks that man originated here independently of possible appearances elsewhere, and would date Tihuanacu as early as B. C. 15,000. This would be at least 11,000 years earlier than any reasonably certain date in Babylonia or Egypt.

Perhaps our hemisphere is wrongly called "the New World."

ONE IMPROVEMENT

TWO things this country needs are a leakless fountain pen and a non-spill face powder compact. They've hit on the leak-proof pen. It sounds like magic. It can be carried uncapped, holds a two-year supply of ink, will write on wet paper. At present it is being manufactured only abroad and for use of the U. S. Army Air Force. Within a year, it is planned, production will be started here for the public.

But the dripless powder compact? Sorry. So far no such boon to womanhood.

WINTER BATTLE

THE coming winter will be critical for the American driver. Though manufacturing has resumed, new cars will not be available in any quantity for a good while, and tires are still obtainable only by eloquence addressed to the local ration boards. Drivers should conserve their cars for a few more months. Then the worst of their motoring troubles ought to be over.

AWVS Tackles Household Help Problem Intelligently

Organization Would Improve Status of Domestic Worker

By HELEN ESSARY
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON—If you are simply a nervous wreck, struggling with the servant situation . . . day after day . . . if you are so chastened by running the home single handed that you think the sound of somebody else using the vacuum cleaner is sweeter music than Tchaikovsky's "Pathétique," done by the Philharmonic . . . if you would rather rest your weary eyes on a stout smiling retainer scraping a burnt pan at the kitchen sink . . . then cheer up my pretties, your day of deliverance is here.

That is, your day of deliverance is about to be here. For a group of intelligent, industrious women with time on their hands, good intentions in their heads and strength in their sinews (shall I say sinews) is working this very minute while you sit there drooping, on that baffling enigma—the domestic servant situation.

To be specific, the successful war-time organization (The American Women's Voluntary Services, Inc.) is developing, or trying to develop, some kind of a plan for so improving the behavior of the domestic employer and the work of the domestic employee in your home that things will go merrier than a marriage bell from now on. Well, almost from now on.

Helen Essary

UP AND DOWN BROADWAY

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Every week you see more of the Broadway boys who have shed their uniforms. Actors, writers, directors, technicians and press agents who have been out of circulation for one to four years are turning up in their old jobs or in new ones.

Some of them are just taking it easy, luxuriating in the feeling of being civilians again. One of these is Bobby Faye, two weeks reconverted.

Bobby is one of those who may owe the Army or Navy a lot of thanks for furthering careers. Now 35 years old, he started some 10 years ago in burlesque as a comedian and there weren't many places around the country he missed, working steadily year after year. It paid well enough, but he wasn't advancing. When the Army grabbed him, he followed the usual routine for a time and then was tapped for the role of "Sad Sack" in special services "Blueprint" show, "Hi Yank", which was tested at Fort Dix.

A lot of show people from Broadway went down to Dix to see the show and all of them came away impressed with the work of Bobby Faye. Producer Brock Pemberton seemed to be the most impressed of all. He said he wanted to see Bobby when he got out of the Army.

So last week the comic dropped in to see Pemberton, who was just as enthusiastic as ever. He immediately began discussing the possibility of putting him in a comedy called "The Magnificent Heel," which he has scheduled for this season. If that doesn't work out, there'll likely be something else because the producer is sold on Faye's future. The fact that Pemberton is successfully employing one Fay (Frank) in "Harvey" has nothing to do with this matter.

A fellow who jumped right back into action is Ezra Stone, the original Henry of radio's "Aldrich Family." He returned to the cast last Friday night with the same uncertain voice. The Army did manage to alter the Stone physique somewhat. He used to be shaped like an egg. Some of the curves have been planed off.

John Beal was one of the outstanding young leading men of stage and screen before he joined the Army Air Forces transport three years ago. He's out now and Producer Alfred De Liagre Jr. has lost no time in signing him to play the lead in the New York company of "The Voice of the Turtle," effective Jan 5, when Elliott Nugent leaves the role he created. Beal last was on Broadway in "Liberty Jones."

A month ago today Jan Kiepura opened in an operetta called "Polonaise" and received for his pains as sour a set of notices as the critics ever accorded a Polish tenor.

"Haw!" That is Kiepura, some 125,000 box office dollars later, giving the same critics the horse laugh, a thing he does with gusto and a facility that can come only from experience and an abiding faith in Kiepura.

"Some critics I appreciate," he said, hastening to add that this was due "not only because they think I am greatest tenor in the world."

But these critics are music critics. The drama critics are the ones who cover his first nights when he's in a Broadway musical and they are the ones who have acquired the full measure of the Kiepura scorn.

Treating "Change of Life"

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

CERTAIN processes occur naturally at definite times during life. For example, there is the period of rapid growth at the maturing period of adolescence.

In women, the change of life may produce certain abnormal symptoms. The change of life itself, as a rule, does not require treatment but something must be done to relieve any existing abnormal conditions.

Careful Examination

The first step in the treatment is a careful examination to make sure that certain conditions, such as tumors, are not present, and to discover whether or not high blood pressure, diabetes, and other disorders common to the middle-age period are present, and to treat them if found. Mental and emotional disturbances are frequently responsible for many of the symptoms which occur during the change of life. The services of a psychiatrist may be helpful in treating these.

In about 80 patients it was found that almost half were relieved of their symptoms by a sedative drug, phenobarbitone, taken by mouth. The remainder were treated with estrogen, a glandular extract, and about half of them obtained relief by this method. Those who were not helped by either of these forms of treatment were given estrogen plus sedative or quieting drugs; about one-third of them obtained relief in this way.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. Z.: Would drainage from the nose cause nausea and fatigue? I have sinus trouble.

Answer: A sinus infection might be responsible for fatigue. Swallowing of the secretion from the sinus would lead to nausea and sickness of the stomach.

Many physicians, among them Doctor E. L. Severinghaus of Wisconsin, feel that, by the use of a sufficient amount of estrogen, it is possible to relieve all of the symptoms of the menopause, with rare exceptions. The estrogen may be given by mouth or by injection into a muscle, and the physician will, of course, decide the quantity to be employed in each case, the manner in which the estrogen is to be administered, and the length of time it is to be used. The idea is to give the smallest amount that will afford the patient relief. Estrogen cannot be given to patients who have had a cancer of the breast or of the womb. It has been found that the use of estrogen in women who have a tendency to mental disturbances may preclude the development of any such disorders.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. Z.: Would drainage from the nose cause nausea and fatigue? I have sinus trouble.

Answer: A sinus infection might be responsible for fatigue. Swallowing of the secretion from the sinus would lead to nausea and sickness of the stomach.

LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE

HOW OFTEN we have seen a redoubtable scare the opponents into a worthwhile sacrifice. Many otherwise sound players perpetrate that mistake, not being willing to let well enough alone. Unless you are really willing to play against any bid your opponents may make over your own, or unless you are well prepared to overcall them again at the next higher level, it is usually unwise to redouble. But if you do redouble, and they then overcall you because of it, don't let your anger make you bid again at the higher stage and only get yourself set in an impossible contract.

South could have made his 4-Hearts doubled, for a score of 290 plus the rubber bonus. If he had been willing to pass. But he saw a chance to get an additional 240 points by redoubling. For the sake of that relatively small amount of extra points, he jeopardized the whole business with his redouble. After that East decided South was pretty likely to make his redoubled contract, a supposition in which he was correct, and so made an intended sacrifice at 5-Clubs. That, it developed, could not be beaten more than about three tricks, worth 500 points, which South surmised. So, chagrined by the turn of events and angered by East's combativeness, he made his 5-Hearts bid.

That was just one too high. He struggled to make it, but failed. The K won the club lead, the second club was ruffed, then South led to the diamond A and brought forth the spade K. East covered and the heart 2 killed his A. To the diamond K went South and the spade Q furnished a diamond discard. The spade 9 was ruffed by East with the heart 6 and overruled by the Q. Now a diamond was lost to the Q and a club returned for South to ruff. Locked in his hand, South had to lose the setting trick to East's guarded trump K.

HOUSEHOLD WORK IS DREARY

The AWVS has tackled the question as a great nation-wide movement. An educational movement, which aims to explain domestic workers to employers and to teach employees how best to earn a new respect from employers.

One of the first steps, and almost the most important one is to improve the status of the servant; the household servant. This can be best begun, says the AWVS, by stopping the use of the word "servant." Never again say servant. Say "domestic employee."

Mrs. Mortimer Hess, secretary of the AWVS and enthusiastic promoter of the plan for improving the servant (sorry—domestic employee) problem, says that the first step in her organization's campaign is to educate the employer.

Employers, Mrs. Hess says, are often shortsighted and tyrannical. They must be taught to protect their domestic employees. They must give vacations with pay. Working hours must be reduced so that they do not straggle along half of one's life. Social security must be guaranteed domestic employees. And, in every way, the domestic employee must be regarded as a respected

Here, undoubtedly, are justifiable reforms. But they are not quite enough. To me, household work is mighty dreary. I like to do a few light touches here and there. Rearrange furniture. Dust off a few tables. Get dinner on the cook's night out—if she does not go out too often. But, to me, a daily diet of household work is simple drudgery. It deadens the mind and doesn't improve the spirit—that is if you can't escape it regularly.

This, however, can be managed by shorter working hours. When working hours are shortened, the worker must work harder and faster. Here is a most important point in the reform. In some households there is a powerful lot of drooling about by the domestic assistant. The droolers will have to be speeded up.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

THOMAS ROYDE thought in his slow reflective way of Mary Aldin's life. Always in attendance on an old woman. Calm, tactful, an excellent manager. He asked curiously:

"Have you lived with Lady Tressilian long?"

"For nearly 15 years. I came to be with her after my father died. He had been a helpless invalid for some years before his death."

And then, answering the question she felt to be in his mind:

"In '36. That's what you wanted to know, wasn't it?"

"I did wonder," he admitted. "You might be—any age, you see."

"That's rather a two-edged remark!"

"I suppose it is. I didn't mean it that way."

That somber thoughtful gaze of his did not leave her face. She did not find it embarrassing. It was too free from self-consciousness for that—a genuine thoughtful interest. Seeing his eyes on her hair, she put up her hand to the one white lock.

"I've had that," she said, "since I was very young."

"I like it," said Thomas Royde simply.

He went on looking at her. She said at last, in a slightly amused tone of voice:

"Well, what is the verdict?"

He reddened under his tan.

"Oh, I suppose it is rude of me to stare. I was wondering about you—what you are really like."

"Please," she said hurriedly and rose from the table. She said as she went into the drawing room with her arm through Audrey's:

"Old Mr. Treves is coming to dinner tomorrow, too."

"Who's he?" asked Neville.

"He brought an introduction from the Rufus Lords. A delightful old gentleman. He's staying at the Balmoral Court. He's got a weak heart and looks very frail, but his faculties are perfect and he has known a lot of interesting people. He was a solicitor or a barrister—I forget which."

"Everybody down here is terribly old," said Kay discontentedly.

She was standing just under a tall lamp. Thomas was looking that way, and he gave her that same slow interested attention that he gave to anything that was immediately occupying his line of vision.

He was struck suddenly with her intense and passionate beauty. A beauty of vivid coloring, of abundant and triumphant vitality. He looked across from her to Audrey, pale and mothlike in a silvery gray dress.

He smiled to himself and murmured:

"Rose Red and Snow White."

"What?" It was Mary Aldin at his elbow.

He repeated the words: "Like the old fairy story, you know?"

Mary Aldin said:

"It's a very good description."

Mr. Treves slipped his glass of port appreciatively. A very nice wine. And an excellently cooked and served dinner. Clearly Lady Tressilian had no difficulties with her servants.

The house was well managed, too, in spite of the mistress of it being an invalid.

For Wednesday, November 7

INCITED by a sudden about-face in plans and objectives, this day may prove to be exciting, dramatic and keen with commotion and surprise. This may be in connection with new ambitions or propositions, in business, finance, or profession, and there is every prospect that romance and high adventure are at the root of current activities. In fact, it may be emotional or sentimental ventures that may be the cause of complete and drastic uprooting.

While there may be some financial benefits, the main thrills may be in celebration of a more intimate and heartwarming occurrence. Elopements sometimes eventuate under this sign.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of sudden and quite breathtaking events, in which there may be a complete uprooting from old contacts, ambitions and goals, a swift and dramatic plunge into new channels of adventure, romance and thrills.

While there are signs of increased financial scope, with enhanced prestige and popularity, the predominant urge is in connection with festivities in the domestic scene, in which glamor, imagination, ideals and affectual goals bring about adventure, dramatic and unforeseen.

A child born on this day will be original, unconventional, and imaginative, and should have a dramatic and adventurous life, with happiness as well.

Up and Down Broadway

While we were talking, Kiepora took time out to bid goodbye to his son Jan Thaddeus, aged one year, six months, who was departing for an outing in Central park with his mother, Marta Eggerth, who is co-starring in "Polonaise."

"Not a baby," Kiepora corrected me. "A man! My best production."

Miss Eggerth said the child can say words in five languages, but that it has been decided he'll be brought up on English.

It's Kiepora's idea that "Polonaise" has to be a good show if for no other reason than that its score contains eight of Chopin's pieces "unchanged, nut for nut." The fact that he sings them is beside the point.

"The music, unchanged—"is already something really great."

He's grateful to the critics in a way. The audiences come expecting nothing and are twice as appreciative as they would have been if they had been told they were going to see the greatest show in the world.

"I am slave of my public," Kiepora said. "I give the full voice eight times a week. Whose could do?"

He explained his "new science" of singing.

"The more you sing, the better you sing. Of course, eff you know how to sing."

JACK DEMPSEY DUE TO RECEIVE TELEVISION JOB

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Jack Dempsey, who started his fighting career as a lean and hungry hobo, today needed only to sign the contract to have a lifetime $250,000-a-year job as president of a concern which will televise boxing shows, according to Max Waxman, his business manager.

Dempsey, in Birmingham, Ala., on a bond-selling tour, said "we're not at liberty to say anything until I get out of the service sometime between Nov. 24 and Dec. 1."

Dempsey, a Coast Guard commander, went into service four years ago.

The former heavyweight king, now 50, said he believed the contract would be for 10 years—but that's something we'll talk about after I'm out."

Waxman, in New York, was more valuable.

"The television company is a newly-organized branch of one of the nation's largest advertising agencies," he said. "They want Dempsey to sign for life, but whether he'll make such a blanket tie-up I'm not certain."

Terms of the contract would involve the setting up of Dempsey as a major competitor to Mike Jacobs as a fight promoter. Jacobs controls fights at Madison Square Garden. Waxman said that Dempsey's duties as supervisor of the television company would include promotion of important bouts in New York.

DYER MAY BE NEW CARD BOSS

Fans Stunned By Resignation Of Southworth To Take Boston Brave Post

BULLETIN
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 7.—Eddie Dyer, a veteran of 29 years as manager and scout in the St. Louis Cardinal farm system, has signed a contract to replace Billy Southworth as manager of the National League club, Owner Sam Breadon announced today.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7.—Eddie Dyer, whose coaching in the minor leagues helped make major league stars of Johnny Mize, Howard Pollett, Joe Medwick, Ernie White and Enos Slaughter, was most frequently mentioned today as successor of Billy Southworth as St. Louis Cardinal manager.

Dyer, a veteran of 20 years as manager and scout in the Cardinal farm system, left baseball last year to join his brother in the oil business at Houston, Tex. His son said last night that Dyer had no comment on the reports. Cardinal President Sam Breadon said he might have an announcement today.

Dyer, a lefthanded pitcher at Rice Institute, signed a Cardinal contract in 1922, but a sore arm stopped his playing career. He became manager at Topeka and then at Scottsdale, where Joe Medwick made his professional start.

Other Cardinal managerial possibilities were John Leonard (Pepper) Martin, former Cardinal star who managed San Diego of the Pacific Coast league last season, and Ray Blades, Cardinal manager in 1939 and 1940.

Southworth's resignation to become Boston Brave manager stunned St. Louis fans. Breadon said he was as surprised as anyone when Southworth asked to be released from his contract. Breadon said he wouldn't keep Southworth from a better position with Boston. It was believed that the Braves offered Southworth between $25,000 and $30,000 a year.

There were in sixty five in attendance. She also received quite a number of useful presents. A most excellent dinner was served at the noon hour which was enjoyed by everyone present.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Strous, sons, Franklin and Carl were the last Sunday evening callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chambers East of Tarleton.

The Misses Inez Kempton, Norma Jean Dunkle and Maxine Hartman have been chosen cheerleaders of Saltcreek school for the season of the coming basketball games.

Up and Down Broadway

While we were talking, Kiepora took time out to bid goodbye to his son Jan Thaddeus, aged one year, six months, who was departing for an outing in Central park with his mother, Marta Eggerth, who is co-starring in "Polonaise."

"Not a baby," Kiepora corrected me. "A man! My bast production."

Miss Eggerth said the child can say words in five languages, but that it has been decided he'll be brought up on English.

It's Kiepora's idea that "Polonaise" has to be a good show if for no other reason than that its score contains eight of Chopin's pieces "unchanged, nut for nut." The fact that he sings them is beside the point.

"The music, unchanged—is is already something really great."

He's grateful to the critics in a way. The audiences come expecting nothing and are twice as appreciative as they would have been if they had been told they were going to see the greatest show in the world.

"I am slave of my public," Kiepora said. "I give the full voice eight times a week. Whose could do?"

He explained his "new science" of singing:

"The more you sing, the better you sing. Of course, eff you know how to sing."

JACK DEMPSEY DUE TO RECEIVE TELEVISION JOB

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Jack Dempsey, who started his fighting career as a lean and hungry hobo, today needed only to sign the contract to have a lifetime $250,000-a-year job as president of a concern which will televise boxing shows, according to Max Waxman, his business manager.

Dempsey, in Birmingham, Ala., on a bond-selling tour, said "we're not at liberty to say anything until I get out of the service sometime between Nov. 24 and Dec. 1." Dempsey, a Coast Guard commander, went into service four years ago.

The former heavyweight king, now 50, said he believed the contract would be for 10 years—but that's something he'll talk about after I'm out."

Waxman, in New York, was more voluble.

"The television company is a newly-organized branch of one of the nation's largest advertising agencies," he said. "They want Dempsey to sign for life, but whether he'll make such a blank-tie-up I'm not certain."

Terms of the contract would involve the setting up of Dempsey as a major competitor to Mike Jacobs as a fight promoter. Jacobs controls fights at Madison Square Garden. Waxman said that Dempsey's duties as supervisor of the television company would include promotion of important bouts in New York.

HOWARD HOSPITAL "HOWDY"

It's Eddy Howard and his sprightly swingsters from Percy Jones hospital, Battle Creek, Mich., on "Spotlight Bands", Friday, Author of "A Million Dreams Ago" and other best sellers, Howard fronts one of the fastest rising bands in the music business.

DOWNEY LEADS PARADE

Radio's equivalent of big league baseball standings, the C. E. Hooper audience survey for mid-October, reveals that Morton Downey attracts more listeners than any other program on his network between 8:00 a. m. and 1:00 p. m. (EST) each day. What's more, scores of independent stations throughout the country also carry the Irish tenor's program, boosting his audience by several millions, it's estimated.

RADIO NEWS NOTES

Edward Gardner, producer—that's the new role being essayed by the famous Archie of "Duffy's Tavern." Having his appetite for the screen whetted following his success in the picture "Duffy's Tavern," Gardner has formed his own independent producing company. Frank Gruber, who wrote "Johnny Angel," has been engaged to write the screen play for Gardner's first production, which is to be called "Murder in Duffy's Tavern."

Nigel Bruce was no stranger to mysteries even before he assumed his now-famous role of "Dr. Watson" the screen and radio adventures of "Sherlock Holmes," starring Basil Rathbone. As long ago as 1923, Bruce appeared in a mystery show, and as a sleuth's sidekick but on the stage; he portrayed Denny in "Bulldog Drummond."

A sailor contestant on Col. Stoopnagle's "Double or Nothing" program told the Colonel that his shipmates call him a card because he's the joker of the deck.

Meredith Willson is not a slave-driving music conductor on the Burns and Allen program, but when George Burns asked him, on a recent program, what he did when bandsmen played a sour note, and Meredith was forced to answer meekly: "I would say, I'm afraid your instrument is out of tune, sir," his orchestra almost fell out of their seats laughing.

Harold McCracken, who guest-experted on the "Fishing and Hunting Club of the Air" Wednesday, is one of radio's twenty-year men. The rod and gun authority, of whom Corey Ford wrote: "He's the man the bears write to, to find out when and where to hibernate," appeared in the "Twenty Years Ago" column of the trade paper, Radio Daily, this week, in an item chronicling his return to radio, twenty years ago! He did a series over WJZ in 1923, '24 and '25.

Kay Kyser and his "College of Musical Knowledge" now in the east on a tour of service hospitals and bases and heard Wednesday nights, are due to make two more pictures for RKO.

Maestro Frank DeVol, who bats the Ginny Simms Show, has an orchestral setup unique in radio. He divides his band in half with a partition between the string and brass sections. Wags contend he does this because half the band isn't speaking to the other half, but it's really because the conductor has placed his stringed instrument players in a semi-echo chamber and believes his unique idea gives Ginny Simms' musical background more depth and mellowness.

OUNCE OF PREVENTION

Jack Benny decided to put on his glasses before he met Joe Louis. The heavyweight champion, recently discharged from the U. S. Army and who will defend his title against Billy Conn next June, will appear on the Benny broadcast, Sunday, November 11, over NBC.

JEWISH PALESTINE?

Two prominent rabbis and two distinguished journalists debate the question, "Should We Support the Establishment of a Jewish State in Palestine Now?" in "America's Town Meeting," in its broadcast Thursday. Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, national vice president of the Zionist Organization of America and member of the World Zionist Executive Council, and Edgar Ansel Mowrer, author, foreign correspondent and columnist, speak for the affirmative. Upholding the negative viewpoint will be Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron, member of the executive committee of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and Carroll Binder, editor of the editorial page of the Minneapolis Tribune. The broadcast will originate in Town Hall, New York, with George V. Denny, Jr., as moderator.

COSTELLO OFFERS HI-JINKS

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, those two madmen in search of a straight-jacket, air another session of "Mystery Thursday." Costello, Haines, probably harking back to the last time Abbott and Costello acted logically, sings "It's Been a Long, Long Time." Will Osborne and the orchestra are featured in "Blue Skies."

COBB ON "SUSPENSE"

Lee J. Cobb, Broadway actor now portraying a role in the new picture, "Queen of Siam," will star on the "Suspense" theatre of thrills Thursday as the first of a series of top-flight supporting actors to be featured on the program in coming months. The policy will be to star high-caliber dramatic players, such as Cobb, Henry Daniell, Ray Collins and other outstanding actors who have
